I. INTRODUCTION

1. In this Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM), we seek comment on whether to streamline or eliminate provisions in Parts 0, 1, 5, 73 and 74 of our rules which require the posting and maintenance of broadcast licenses and related information in specific locations. In conjunction with the Commission's Modernization of Media Regulation Initiative,¹ several parties have urged us to eliminate license posting rules because they are redundant and obsolete now that licensing information is readily accessible online through the Commission's databases.² Through this NPRM, we advance our efforts to modernize our media regulations and remove unnecessary requirements that can impede competition and innovation in the media marketplace.

II. BACKGROUND

2. Several Commission rules impose certain posting and record maintenance obligations on broadcast stations. For example, Section 73.1230, which applies to all broadcast stations, provides:

(a) The station license and any other instrument of station authorization shall be posted in a conspicuous place and in such a manner that all terms are visible at the place the licensee considers to be the principal control point of the transmitter.

(b) Posting of the station license and any other instruments of authorization shall be done by affixing them to the wall at the posting location, or by enclosing them in a binder or folder which is retained at the posting location so that the documents will be readily available and easily accessible.³

Humphrey at 3 (Humphrey Comments).

³ 47 CFR § 73.1230.

Likewise, Section 73.801 applies Section 73.1230 to low power FM stations.⁴ Sections 74.564 and 74.664, applicable to aural and television broadcast auxiliary stations,⁵ respectively, require stations to post licenses and any other authorizations “in the room in which the transmitter is located” and prescribes the manner of such posting.⁶ Similarly, under Sections 74.432(j) and 74.832(j), remote pickup station and low power auxiliary station licensees are required to post licenses either at the transmitter or station control point.⁷ Further, under Section 5.203(b),⁸ broadcast licensees must post experimental authorizations along with their station license, and Section 1.62(a)(2)⁹ requires all Commission licensees, including broadcast entities, to post information pertaining to license renewal applications as well as the license itself.

3. In addition, several Commission rules require the maintenance of licensing documentation and the display of specified station contact information. For example, Section 74.1265, which applies to FM translator and FM booster stations, provides:

(a) The station license and any other instrument of authorization or individual order concerning the construction of the station or the manner of operation shall be kept in the station record file maintained by the licensee so as to be available for inspection upon request to any authorized representative of the Commission.

(b) The call sign of the translator or booster together with the name, address, and telephone number of the licensee or local representative of the licensee if the licensee does not reside in the community served by the translator or booster, and the name and address of a person and place where station records are maintained, shall be displayed at the translator or booster site on the structure supporting the transmitting antenna, so as to be visible to a person standing on the ground at the transmitter site. The display shall be prepared so as to withstand normal weathering for a reasonable period of time and shall be maintained in a legible condition by the licensee.¹⁰

Similarly, Section 74.765 requires LPTV, TV translator, and TV booster stations to maintain their station license and other authorizations in their station record file and to physically display their call sign together with the name, address, and telephone number of the licensee or local representative of the licensee and the name and address of a person and place where station records are maintained at the antenna site.¹¹

4. The Commission originally adopted broadcast license posting rules in 1930 and over the years it expanded these rules to apply to new services that were deployed by broadcasters. In adopting its

Broadcast auxiliary stations are radio frequency systems used by broadcast stations and broadcast or cable network entities to relay broadcast aural or television signals from the studio to the transmitter, or between two points, such as a main studio and an auxiliary studio. See 47 CFR §§ 74.501, 74.601.

¹¹ 47 CFR § 74.765. We note that Section 78.59 also contains license posting requirements for cable television relay stations (CARS) licensees. See 47 CFR § 78.59. Given that not all CARS authorizations are housed online and no commenter in the media modernization docket has asked the Commission to eliminate these requirements, we decline to seek comment on eliminating the posting requirements in Section 78.59 in this proceeding. In addition, we note that the Commission applies similar requirements to other, non-broadcast licensees, e.g., 47 CFR §§ 13.19 (commercial radio operators), 25.115(c)(2)(vi)(E) (satellite communications); 80.405(c), 80.407, 80.411(b) (maritime services); 87.103 (aviation services); 90.437 (private land mobile radio services); 97.213 (amateur radio service); 101.215 (fixed microwave services). We decline to address such rules in this proceeding, as they are beyond the scope of the Modernization of Media Regulation Initiative.

first broadcast license posting rule, the Commission's predecessor, the Federal Radio Commission, provided no explicit rationale for the posting requirements.¹² Subsequent Commission decisions adopting or revising license posting or record maintenance requirements similarly provided no detailed explanation for such rules.¹³ Based on the text of the current rules, these requirements appear intended to ensure that information regarding station authorizations, ownership, and contact information is readily available and easily accessible to the Commission and public.¹⁴

III. DISCUSSION

5. We seek comment on whether to eliminate or modify the license posting and record maintenance rules applicable to broadcasters.¹⁵ In particular, we seek comment on whether these rules continue to serve the public interest given that most of the information required to be displayed or maintained under these rules is now available through electronic means. We note that all of the information regarding broadcast station licenses and other broadcast authorizations that is required to be physically posted pursuant to Sections 1.62(a)(2),¹⁶ 5.203(b), 73.1230, 73.801, 74.432(j), 74.564, 74.664,

¹² See U.S. DEPT. OF COMMERCE, RADIO DIVISION, RADIO SERVICE BULL. NO. 158, at 23, GENERAL ORDERS OF THE FEDERAL RADIO COMMISSION (May 31, 1930) (stating only "that every station license shall be posted by the licensee in a conspicuous place in the room in which the transmitter is located and the license of every station operator shall be posted in a conspicuous place in the room occupied by said station operator while on duty").

¹⁴ See, e.g., 47 CFR §§ 73.1230(b) ("Posting of the station license and any other instruments of authorization shall be done ... so that the documents will be readily available and easily accessible."), 74.1265(a) ("The station license and any other instrument of authorization ... shall be kept ... so as to be available for inspection upon request to any authorized representative of the Commission."), AND (b) ("The call sign of the translator or booster together with the name, address, and telephone number of the licensee or local representative of the licensee ... shall be displayed ... so as to be visible to a person standing on the ground at the transmitter site.") (emphasis added).

74.733, 74.787, and 74.832(j) is readily available online through Commission databases¹⁷ and, for full power and Class A stations, the Online Public Inspection File.¹⁸ Several commenters contend that the availability of broadcast licensing information through other sources renders such posting requirements unnecessary.¹⁹

6. Commenters similarly note that information required to be displayed or otherwise maintained under Sections 74.1265 and 74.765 regarding LPTV, TV and FM translator stations, and TV and FM booster stations is available to the public electronically through the Commission's CDBS, LMS and/or ULS databases.²⁰ The information specified in Sections 74.1265 and 74.765 that also is available through these databases includes station licenses and authorizations, orders and dispositions regarding station construction or facilities operation, the station call sign, and the name, address, and telephone number of the station's licensee and contact representative.

7. Considering the ready availability of pertinent station information through the changes in technology noted in the record, we seek comment on whether the public interest would be served by eliminating or modifying our broadcast license posting and record maintenance provisions. Given that the Commission first adopted broadcast license posting requirements nearly 90 years ago²¹ and that most of the information required to be displayed or maintained under these rules is available through other means, we seek comment on whether these rules remain necessary or relevant today. Is there any valid justification for continuing to require broadcasters to post or maintain a physical copy of their licenses and other authorizations? If so, do such justifications outweigh the costs to broadcast stations of complying with these requirements?

8. In addition, we seek comment on the continuing practicality of requirements to physically display licensing documents at the site of broadcast facilities. With respect to Sections 73.1230, 73.801, 74.564, and 74.664, commenters assert that the obligation to post licenses and other authorizations at the

Similarly, the public may access copies of a station's license, which includes the station call sign and the name, address, and telephone number of the station licensee and point of contact, through the Commission's Licensing Management System (LMS), <https://enterprise.filing.fcc.gov/dataentry/login.html> and/or Universal Licensing System (ULS), <http://wireless.fcc.gov/uls/index.htm?job=home>. However, information regarding the custodian of station records is not available online. See infra para. 10.

“principal control point of the transmitter” is outdated.²² These parties argue that, because most stations have transitioned to dial-up or IP systems that enable them to manage transmitters remotely from a smartphone or personal computer, the “principal control point” has been rendered obsolete.²³ Have these technological changes made such requirements impractical? Similarly, does it remain necessary, as currently required under Sections 74.1265(b) and 74.765(b) only for booster, translator, and LPTV stations, to require that certain information be displayed at the transmitter site “on the structure supporting the transmitting antenna, so as to be visible to a person standing on the ground”?²⁴ To what extent are the transmitter sites of LPTV, booster, and translator stations in locations that cannot be viewed or accessed by members of the public, and are these requirements useful even if the sites are not accessible to the public?²⁵

9. We seek comment on whether these provisions serve any public safety objectives that would be undermined by eliminating them. For example, if broadcast stations no longer were required to physically maintain licenses or related information at the transmitter or antenna site, would sufficient information be readily available to facilitate on-scene assessment during a disaster in cases where communications systems were affected and online systems could not be accessed?²⁶ In such instances, can we presume that, if necessary, Commission staff and station employees would be able to access the authorized technical parameters of operation available in Commission databases through other means? In addition, we seek comment on whether our rules requiring the posting of information “on the structure supporting the transmitting antenna”²⁷ serve any purpose with respect to antenna structure lighting, such as allowing first responders or others to determine quickly whom to contact about a lighting problem. In such situations, can information be readily accessed through other means?

10. In addition, we seek comment on the continued need under Sections 74.1265(b) and 74.765(b) for licensees of LPTV, translator, and booster stations to display “the name and address of a person and place where . . . station records are maintained.”²⁸ This “custodian of records” information is ²⁴ 47 CFR § 74.1265(b). See 47 CFR § 74.765(b) (requiring certain information to be displayed “at the transmitter site” on the structure supporting the transmitting antenna).

²⁶ Under the current rules, only LPTV, booster, and translator stations must display information on the transmitter structure (47 CFR §§ 74.765(b), 74.1265(b)), whereas aural and TV auxiliary broadcast stations must post the required information “in the room in which the transmitter is located” (Id. §§ 74.564(a), 74.664(a)), and other licensees (i.e., full power and Class A TV, AM, FM, and LPFM licensees) must post information at the “principal control point of the transmitter” (Id. §§ 73.801, 73.1230(a)), which may be several miles away from the transmitter.

²⁸ See 47 CFR § 74.1265(b) (requiring FM translator and booster stations to “display[] at the translator or booster site on the structure supporting the transmitting antenna” the “name and address of a person and place where station records are maintained”). See also 47 CFR § 74.765(b). Section 74.1281 specifies the “station records” that FM booster and FM translator stations must maintain, see 47 CFR § 74.1281, and Section 74.781 specifies the station records for LPTV, TV translator stations, and TV booster stations. See 47 CFR § 74.781. These records include the “current instrument of authorization, official correspondence with the FCC, maintenance records, contracts, permission for rebroadcasts, and other pertinent documents.” See §§ 74.1281(a), 74.781(a). To extent we eliminate Sections 74.1265 and 74.765, we propose also to eliminate the sentence in Section 74.1281(c) that provides: “The

the only information broadcasters must display that is not currently available online through a Commission-hosted database. We note that the name, address, and telephone number of the station's licensee and contact representative is readily available online through our databases.²⁹ Given the accessibility of a station contact representative, is there any need to separately require such stations to provide and make publicly available contact information for a custodian of records? If it continues to be necessary for Commission staff to be apprised of the location of station records and their custodian, how should this information be provided if we eliminate Sections 74.1265 and 74.765? For example, should we consider revising one of the forms that these stations currently must file with the Commission, such as the license renewal application form (Form 303-S), to solicit this information?³⁰ Alternatively, should we retain the portion of Sections 74.1265 and 74.765 requiring this information to be maintained at the antenna site? Or, are these sites now in locations that cannot be viewed or accessed by members of the public such that this requirement is no longer justified?³¹

11. Finally, for reasons similar to those noted above, we seek comment on whether to eliminate provisions in our rules that cross-reference the above referenced requirements,³² and whether to modify Section 1.62(a)(2) to exclude broadcast stations from the license posting requirements.³³ In addition, we seek input on whether there are any additional broadcast license posting or record maintenance requirements that should be modified or deleted. Parties urging the retention of any aspect of the posting or record maintenance requirements identified in this NPRM should explain how the benefits of such requirements exceed their costs. Likewise, parties advocating elimination of any requirements should discuss the costs of compliance as compared to any associated benefits of retaining them. To the extent possible, commenters should quantify any claimed costs or benefits and provide supporting information.

name of the person keeping station records, together with the address of the place where the records are kept, shall be posted in accordance with § 74.1265(b) of the rules" as well as the analogous sentence in Section 74.781(c).

³⁰ We note that the Commission previously declined to implement proposals to maintain a "contact person database" as a substitute for Section 74.1265 and similar rules aimed at ensuring the Commission and other government entities can contact licensees promptly in the event of a station malfunction, at that time considering it to be an unnecessary expense and an undertaking that would be difficult to keep up to date. 1995 License Posting Order at 11484-85, paras 31-34 (stating "the Commission shares the concern expressed about licensees' diligence in maintaining such a database and believes that effectively resolving security concerns could involve effort and procedures that are likely to be cumbersome both for it and for licensees."). See supra note 13.

³¹ See supra note 26.

³² See, e.g., 47 CFR §§ 0.408 (cross-referencing the license posting rules); 73.158(b)(requiring any updated descriptions of directional antenna monitoring points to be "posted with the existing station license"); 73.1715(a) (requiring broadcast licensees authorized to share time to file written agreements with the Commission and post with the station license); 73.1725(c) (requiring "the licensee of a secondary station which is authorized to operate limited time" to post approval of its limited time operating schedule with the station license); 73.1870(b)(3) ("the designation of the chief operator [for full power and Class A stations] must be in writing with a copy of the designation posted with the station license")(emphasis added); 74.733(i) (UHF translator signal boosters) ("The provisions of § 74.765 concerning posting of station license shall apply to a UHF translator signal booster . . ."); 74.787(a)(5)(viii) (applying § 74.765 to digital low power television and television translator stations); 74.789 (same).

³³ Id. § 1.62(a)(2) (requiring all Commission licensees, including broadcast entities, to post information pertaining to license renewal applications as well as the license itself).

IV. PROCEDURAL MATTERS

A. Initial Regulatory Flexibility Act Analysis

12. As required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980, as amended (RFA),³⁴ the Commission has prepared an Initial Regulatory Flexibility Act Analysis (IRFA) relating to this NPRM. The IRFA is set forth in Appendix B.

B. Initial Paperwork Reduction Act Analysis

13. This document contains proposed new or modified information collection requirements subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, Public Law 104-13 (44 U.S.C. §§ 3501-3520). It seeks comment on how the Commission could update its current forms to solicit the name and address of LPTV, translator and booster station records and their custodian in the absence of posting requirements. The Commission, as part of its continuing efforts to reduce paperwork burdens, invites the public and the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) to comment on the information collection requirements contained in this document, as required by the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995. In addition, pursuant to the Small Business Paperwork Relief Act of 2002, we seek specific comment on how we might “further reduce the information collection burden for small business concerns with fewer than 25 employees.”

C. Ex Parte Rules

14. Permit-But-Disclose. This proceeding shall be treated as a “permit-but-disclose” proceeding in accordance with the Commission’s ex parte rules.³⁵ Persons making ex parte presentations must file a copy of any written presentation or a memorandum summarizing any oral presentation within two business days after the presentation (unless a different deadline applicable to the Sunshine period applies). Persons making oral ex parte presentations are reminded that memoranda summarizing the presentation must (1) list all persons attending or otherwise participating in the meeting at which the ex parte presentation was made, and (2) summarize all data presented and arguments made during the presentation. If the presentation consisted in whole or in part of the presentation of data or arguments already reflected in the presenter’s written comments, memoranda or other filings in the proceeding, the presenter may provide citations to such data or arguments in his or her prior comments, memoranda, or other filings (specifying the relevant page and/or paragraph numbers where such data or arguments can be found) in lieu of summarizing them in the memorandum. Documents shown or given to Commission staff during ex parte meetings are deemed to be written ex parte presentations and must be filed consistent with rule 1.1206(b). In proceedings governed by rule 1.49(f) or for which the Commission has made available a method of electronic filing, written ex parte presentations and memoranda summarizing oral ex parte presentations, and all attachments thereto, must be filed through the electronic comment filing system available for that proceeding, and must be filed in their native format (e.g., .doc, .xml, .ppt, searchable .pdf). Participants in this proceeding should familiarize themselves with the Commission’s ex parte rules.

D. Filing Requirements

15. Comments and Replies. Pursuant to sections 1.415 and 1.419 of the Commission’s rules, 47 CFR §§ 1.415, 1.419, interested parties may file comments and reply comments on or before the dates indicated on the first page of this document. Comments may be filed using the Commission’s Electronic Comment Filing System (ECFS). Electronic Filing of Documents in Rulemaking Proceedings, 63 FR 24121 (1998).

16. Availability of Documents. Comments, reply comments, and ex parte submissions will be available for public inspection during regular business hours in the FCC Reference Center, Federal Communications Commission, 445 12th Street, S.W., CY-A257, Washington, D.C. 20554. These documents will also be available via ECFS. Documents will be available electronically in ASCII, Microsoft Word, and/or Adobe Acrobat.

APPENDIX B

Initial Regulatory Flexibility Act Analysis

1. As required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980, as amended (RFA)¹ the Commission has prepared this Initial Regulatory Flexibility Act Analysis (IRFA) concerning the possible significant economic impact on small entities by the rules proposed in this Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM). Written public comments are requested on this IRFA. Comments must be identified as responses to the IRFA and must be filed by the deadlines for comments provided on the first page of the NPRM. The Commission will send a copy of the NPRM, including this IRFA, to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the Small Business Administration (SBA).² In addition, the NPRM and IRFA (or summaries thereof) will be published in the Federal Register.³

A. Need for, and Objectives of, the Proposed Rule Changes

2. The proposed rule changes stem from a Public Notice issued by the Commission in May 2017 launching an initiative to modernize the Commission's media regulations.⁴ Numerous parties in that proceeding argued for the elimination of these rules on the basis that they are redundant and obsolete. The NPRM proposes to eliminate two provisions in Parts 73 and 74 of the Commission's rules that require broadcast stations, translators, and booster stations to post and otherwise make available station licenses and related information.

3. Specifically, the NPRM proposes to eliminate: Section 73.1230, which requires broadcast stations to post their station license and other authorizations at "the principal control point of the transmitter" and prescribes the manner of such posting;⁵ Section 73.801, which applies Section 73.1230 to low power stations;⁶ Section 74.1265, which requires FM booster and translator stations to maintain their station license and other documents in their station record file and to physically display their call sign and other information at the antenna site;⁷ Sections 74.564 and 74.664, applicable to aural and television broadcast auxiliary stations,⁸ respectively, which require stations to post licenses and any other authorizations "in the room in which the transmitter is located" and prescribes the manner of such posting;⁹ Sections 74.432(j) and 74.832(j), which require remote pickup station and low power auxiliary station licensees to post licenses either at the transmitter or station control point;¹⁰ Section 5.203(b),¹¹ which requires broadcast licensees to post experimental authorizations along with their station license;

⁸ 47 CFR §§ 74.564, 74.664.

⁹ 47 CFR § 74.565; 47 CFR § 74.664.

¹⁰ 47 CFR §§ 74.432(j), 74.832(j).

¹¹ 47 CFR § 5.203(b).

Section 1.62(a)(2),¹² which requires all Commission licensees, including broadcast entities, to post information pertaining to license renewal applications as well as the license itself; and Section 74.765, which requires LPTV, TV translator, and TV booster stations to maintain their station license and other authorizations in their station record file and to physically display their call sign together with the name, address, and telephone number of the licensee or local representative of the licensee and the name and address of a person and place where station records are maintained at the antenna site. These proposals are intended to reduce outdated regulations and unnecessary regulatory burdens that can impede competition and innovation in media markets.

B. Legal Basis

4. The proposed action is authorized pursuant to Sections 1, 4(i), 4(j), 303, 309, 310, and 336 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. §§ 151, 154(i), 154(j), 303, 309, 310, and 336.

C. Description and Estimates of the Number of Small Entities to Which the Proposed Rules Will Apply

5. The RFA directs agencies to provide a description of and, where feasible, an estimate of the number of small entities that may be affected by the proposed rules, if adopted.¹³ The RFA generally defines the term “small entity” as having the same meaning as the terms “small business,” “small organization,” and “small governmental jurisdiction.”¹⁴ In addition, the term “small business” has the same meaning as the term “small business concern” under the Small Business Act.¹⁵ A small business concern is one which: (1) is independently owned and operated; (2) is not dominant in its field of operation; and (3) satisfies any additional criteria established by the SBA.¹⁶ The rules proposed herein will directly affect certain small television and radio broadcast stations, and cable entities. Below is a description of these small entities, as well as an estimate of the number of such small entities, where feasible.

6. Television Broadcasting. This Economic Census category “comprises establishments primarily engaged in broadcasting images together with sound.”¹⁷ These establishments operate television broadcast studios and facilities for the programming and transmission of programs to the public.¹⁸ These establishments also produce or transmit visual programming to affiliated broadcast television stations, which in turn broadcast the programs to the public on a predetermined schedule. Programming may originate in their own studio, from an affiliated network, or from external sources. The SBA has created the following small business size standard for such businesses: those having $38.5

¹⁴ 5 U.S.C. § 601(6).

¹⁷ U.S. Census Bureau, 2012 North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) Definitions, “515120 Television Broadcasting,” <http://www.census.gov/cgi-bin/sssd/naics/naicsrch>.

million or less in annual receipts.¹⁹ The 2012 Economic Census reports that 751 firms in this category operated in that year. Of that number, 656 had annual receipts of $25,000,000 or less.²⁰ Based on this data, we estimate that the majority of commercial television broadcasters are small entities under the applicable SBA size standard.

7. In addition, the Commission has estimated the number of licensed commercial television stations to be 1,384.²¹ Of this total, 1,264 stations had revenues of $38.5 million or less, according to Commission staff review of the BIA Kelsey Inc. Media Access Pro Television Database (BIA) on February 24, 2017. Such entities, therefore, qualify as small entities under the SBA definition. The Commission has estimated the number of licensed noncommercial educational (NCE) television stations to be 394.²² The Commission, however, does not compile and does not have access to information on the revenue of NCE stations that would permit it to determine how many such stations would qualify as small entities.

8. We note, however, that in assessing whether a business concern qualifies as “small” under the above definition, business (control) affiliations²³ must be included. Our estimate, therefore likely overstates the number of small entities that might be affected by our action, because the revenue figure on which it is based does not include or aggregate revenues from affiliated companies. In addition, another element of the definition of “small business” requires that an entity not be dominant in its field of operation. We are unable at this time to define or quantify the criteria that would establish whether a specific television broadcast station is dominant in its field of operation. Accordingly, the estimate of small businesses to which the proposed rules would apply does not exclude any television station from the definition of a small business on this basis and therefore could be over-inclusive.

9. There are also 1,968 LPTV stations, 417 Class A stations, and 3,776 TV translator stations.²⁴ Given the nature of these services, we will presume that all of these entities qualify as small entities under the above SBA small business size standard.

10. Radio Stations. This economic Census category “comprises establishments primarily engaged in broadcasting aural programs by radio to the public.”²⁵ The SBA has created the following small business size standard for this category: those having $38.5 million or less in annual receipts.²⁶ Census data for 2012 shows that 2,849 firms in this category operated in that year.²⁷ Of this number,

²⁷ U.S. Census Bureau, Table No. EC0751SSSZ4, Information: Subject Series – Establishment and Firm Size: Receipts Size of Firms for the United States: 2012 (515112),

2,806 firms had annual receipts of less than $25,000,000, and 43 firms had annual receipts of $25,000,000.²⁸ Because the Census has no additional classifications that could serve as a basis for determining the number of stations whose receipts exceeded $38.5 million in that year, we conclude that the majority of television broadcast stations were small under the applicable SBA size standard.

11. Apart from the U.S. Census, the Commission has estimated the number of licensed commercial AM radio stations to be 4,486 stations²⁹ and the number of commercial FM radio stations to be 6,755, for a total number of 11,241.³⁰ Of this total, 9,898 stations had revenues of $38.5 million or less, according to Commission staff review of the BIA Kelsey Inc. Media Access Pro Television Database (BIA) in October 2014. In addition, the Commission has estimated the number of noncommercial educational FM radio stations to be 4,111.³¹ NCE stations are non-profit, and therefore considered to be small entities.³² Therefore, we estimate that the majority of radio broadcast stations are small entities.

12. Low Power FM Stations. The same SBA definition that applies to radio stations would apply to low power FM stations. As noted above, the SBA has created the following small business size standard for this category: those having $38.5 million or less in annual receipts.³³ The Commission has estimated the number of licensed low power FM stations to be 1,966.³⁴ In addition, as of June 30, 2017, there were a total of 7,453 FM translator and FM booster stations.³⁵ Given the nature of these services, we will presume that these licensees qualify as small entities under the SBA definition.

13. We note again, however, that in assessing whether a business concern qualifies as “small” under the above definition, business (control) affiliations³⁶ must be included. Because we do not include or aggregate revenues from affiliated companies in determining whether an entity meets the applicable revenue threshold, our estimate of the number of small radio broadcast stations affected is likely overstated. In addition, as noted above, one element of the definition of “small business” is that an entity not be dominant in its field of operation. We are unable at this time to define or quantify the criteria that would establish whether a specific radio broadcast station is dominant in its field of operation. Accordingly, our estimate of small radio stations potentially affected by the proposed rules includes those that could be dominant in their field of operation. For this reason, such estimate likely is over-inclusive.

³⁶ “[Business concerns] are affiliates of each other when one concern controls or has the power to control the other or a third party or parties controls or has the power to control both.” 13 CFR § 21.103(a)(1).

14. Description of Projected Reporting, Recordkeeping, and Other Compliance Requirements

15. In this section, we identify the reporting, recordkeeping, and other compliance requirements proposed in the NPRM and consider whether small entities are affected disproportionately by any such requirements.

16. Reporting Requirements. The NPRM proposes to modify existing reporting requirements. Specifically, the NPRM seeks comment on how the Commission could update its current forms, such as revising the license renewal application form (Form 303-S), to solicit the name and address of LPTV, translator, and booster station records and their custodian in the absence of posting requirements. This modification would benefit small entities by removing burdensome posting obligation and allowing licensees to add required custodian on records information to an existing form which licensees routinely file with the Commission.

17. Recordkeeping Requirements. The NPRM does not propose to adopt recordkeeping requirements.

18. Other Compliance Requirements. The NPRM does not propose to adopt other compliance requirements.

19. Because no commenter provided information specifically quantifying the costs and administrative burdens of complying with the existing recordkeeping requirements, we cannot precisely estimate the impact on small entities of eliminating them. The proposed rule revisions, if adopted, will remove record keeping for all affected broadcast licensees, including small entities. Numerous parties in the Modernization of Media Regulation Initiative have requested the proposals set forth in the NPRM and no parties in that proceeding have opposed such proposals.

D. Steps Taken to Minimize Significant Economic Impact on Small Entities, and Significant Alternatives Considered

20. The RFA requires an agency to describe any significant, specifically small business, alternatives that it has considered in reaching its proposed approach, which may include the following four alternatives (among others): (1) the establishment of differing compliance or reporting requirements or timetables that take into account the resources available to small entities; (2) the clarification, consolidation, or simplification of compliance and reporting requirements under the rule for such small entities; (3) the use of performance, rather than design, standards; and (4) an exemption from coverage of the rule, or any part thereof, for small entities.³⁷

21. The NPRM proposes to eliminate recordkeeping obligations requiring the posting of stations' license and other authorizations. Eliminating these requirements is intended to modernize the Commission's regulations, remove duplicative and obsolete recordkeeping requirements and reduce costs and recordkeeping burdens for affected entities, including small entities. Under the current rules, affected entities must expend time and resources posting and maintaining licenses and related information already available to the Commission, and most of which is publicly accessible by electronic means. The proposed elimination would relieve such entities from these obsolete recordkeeping requirements. Thus, we anticipate that affected small entities only stand to benefit from such revisions, if adopted.

E. Federal Rules that May Duplicate, Overlap, or Conflict with the Proposed Rule

22. None.

STATEMENT OF CHAIRMAN AJIT PAI

Re: Amendment of Parts 0, 1, 5, 73, and 74 of the Commission's Rules Regarding Posting of Station Licenses and Related Information, MB Docket No. 18-121; Modernization of Media Regulation Initiative, MB Docket No. 17-105

Nearly 90 years ago, the FCC's predecessor, the Federal Radio Commission, first adopted rules requiring broadcast licenses to be posted. But it didn't explain why. Nonetheless, these rules were expanded in future years to apply to new services deployed by broadcasters.

Perhaps the motivation back then was to ensure that station authorizations, ownership, and contact information would be readily available to the Commission and the public. But today, the vast majority of this information is easily accessible via the Commission's electronic databases. Moreover, in some cases, you can't see posted licenses even if you want to; the transmitter sites at which stations are required to post them aren't physically accessible to or viewable by the public.

As a result, I'm skeptical that our license posting rules currently serve any useful purpose and look forward to reviewing comments from stakeholders discussing whether they should be eliminated.

Thanks to the staff who worked on this item, including Steve Broecker, Michelle Carey, Martha Heller, Tom Horan, Jonathan Mark, Raelynn Remy, Alexander Sanjenis, and Holly Saurer from the Media Bureau, and Dave Konczal and Royce Sherlock from the Office of General Counsel. This might sound like a simple Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, but our team nonetheless had to go through our regulations with a fine-tooth comb to locate all the relevant rules. Indeed, the appendix containing the proposed rule changes is over six pages long.

COMMISSIONER MICHAEL O'RIELLY

Re: Amendment of Parts 0, 1, 5, 73, and 74 of the Commission's Rules Regarding Posting of Station Licenses and Related Information, MB Docket No. 18-121; Modernization of Media Regulation Initiative, MB Docket No. 17-105

Last month I had the opportunity to visit One World Trade Center, or, known by some as Freedom Tower. This visit has been on my list for a while, as broadcasters such as Fox, NBC, and CBS have relocated or plan to relocate in the near future their broadcast antennas from the Empire State Building to One World Trade Center, facilitating the repack process.

When we arrived, we were escorted to an elevator bank used exclusively by the building's tenants and sent up to Floor 64. From there, we walked to another elevator bank that climbed to Floor 90. On the 90th Floor, the engineer we were with proceeded through multiple security layers to take us into the World Trade Center installation. Once inside, not only did I have the opportunity to view this amazing facility, but I also had the privilege of seeing the location where broadcaster licenses and authorizations were literally taped to the wall.

No member of the public has access to this facility to view this paperwork, which was in fact conspicuously placed. On point, I have pushed to remove certain FCC rules over the years to allow broadcasters to better secure their premises and promote safety. In such an environment, it then begs the question, how is this rule serving the public interest? Indeed, the genesis of this requirement stems from the Federal Radio Commission and we can find “no explicit rationale for the posting requirements.” I truly believe that this proceeding will confirm that this rule should be set into an appropriate waste bin.

I thank the chairman for teeing this item up and continuing to modernize our media rules. I approve.
